PERSONAL
A. E. Fletcher was registered at the Hotel Earlton in New York yesterday.
Miss Susie M. Schubert, of Prescott avenue, has gone to Mechanicsburg, where she will enter Irving college.
Miss Mattie Hucker, of White Valley, Wayne county, is the guest of Mrs. J. P. Kelly, of Scranton.
Mrs. David W. Reese, of North Scranton, has returned from a visit with relatives at Bradford, Corning and other places.
James L. Matteson, son of O. B. Matteson, manager of National and Wells-Fargo Express companies, has gone to Princeton to pursue a college course.
Stanley W. Bortree, son of L. C. Bortree, of Moscow, and Miss Irene Elizabeth Wert, of Mekeystown, were married at the home of the bride's parents on Tuesday. The couple will leave next week for Porto Rico, where Mr. Bortree is a teacher in the government schools.
Frank Batio, the phenomenal tenor of this city, has accepted an engagement with the Wolford Sheridan Stock company, now playing at the Academy. Mr. Batio's initial box as a professional will be made next Saturday evening, when he will render some popular ballads between acts, by special request of the ladies of Scranton, to which he is so well adapted.

MEN RESISTED ARREST.
Officer Joseph Greenburger Had Troubles of His Own.
There was a small riot on Cedar avenue yesterday, when Special Officer Joseph Greenburger served a warrant on Joseph Panco and Michael Shuska, accused by A. Shimburger, of South Washington avenue, of obtaining a pair of shoes under false pretences.
When the officer served the warrant both men resisted fiercely, and a large number of their friends gathered and surrounded Greenburger. Constable James Clark, who was in the neighborhood, came to the special's assistance, and two patrolmen then arrived, who dispersed the crowd.
Alderman Millar dismissed the men on the charge of fraudulently obtaining the goods, but fined them $5 and $2 costs for resisting arrest. In default they were committed to the county jail.

PLANS FOR THE COUNTY JAIL.
Those Presented by John J. Harris Accepted.
The county commissioners have accepted the plans prepared by John J. Harris for the improvements to be made in the sanitary condition of the county jail. Plans were also submitted by Architects Percival Morris and E. H. Davis.
In passing upon the plans the commissioners had the assistance of W. S. Collins, who has charge of the department of architecture of the Colliery Engineer, and Mr. Gorman, of the firm of Gorman & Millett, Wilkes-Barre architects.
The successful man is the consulting engineer of the Scranton school district and has charge of the preparation of the heating and ventilating plans for the city schools.

Charles H. Doersam, teacher of pianoforte, will receive pupils at his studio in the Guernsey building, after Monday, Sept. 21st.

THIS REGION EXEMPT FROM ANY TROUBLE

ply of cut out off and is unable to make steam at its power plant in sufficient quantity to run its dynamos with any degree of satisfaction. Unwieldy cut, just as it comes from the dump, only a part of which is combustible, is being used in the furnaces.
The decreased power necessitated taking off from the trolley lines the heavier cars, and substituting smaller ones, and these contending against weakened power and the slippery rails that resulted from the drizzling rain, made it impossible for those on heavy grades to do much more than creep, at certain times during the day.
Some jubilation was occasioned among the mine workers yesterday by the first break in the ranks of the operators. Michael Gibbons, superintendent of the Gibbons Coal company, appeared at the district headquarters during the day, signed the union scale and agreed to close the mine till the executive board of the union has had opportunity to pass upon his request to have the Gibbons mine exempted from the strike order.

The board is disposed, it is said, to grant the request, conditional that the company furnishes no coal to customers other than the school district.
Barley Eglin, one of the officers of the Carbonate local union of the Mine Workers, telephoned to strike headquarters yesterday afternoon that John Murvin, a small operator there, was willing to sign the union scale if the strike would be raised from his place. Secretary Dempsey said that Mr. Murvin should sign the scale first and then make his request. It is expected he will come down today to confer with the board.

The Columbus washery is working with practically a full force, but it is only running every other day. The employees, while not union men, are in sympathy with the strikers, and do not want to prepare any coal except for the electric light plant, of which the washery is a part. The electric light plant can be supplied on half time, hence the shut down every other day.
The Mine Workers' officers have not sanctioned this, but the employees think they are doing what is fair to the strikers and fair to their employers, and that if either side doesn't like their plan, that side can, in the language of the curb, "lump it."

Frank Hawley, of Chicago, grand master of the Switchmen's union, was in the city yesterday, and his presence gave rise to the report that something official was to be done concerning the matter of switchmen handling coal cars.
Mr. Hawley said he had simply stopped off on his way from New York to Chicago to visit his parents who live in West Scranton. Officers of the local Switchmen's union corroborated this in their genuine expressions of surprise at being told of his presence in Scranton. One and all positively avowed that Mr. Hawley had not been sent for.
It was learned positively last night, however, that the switchmen will have a conference tonight with Grand Master Hawley, at Carpenters' hall, Wyoming avenue, and that the matter of handling "scab" coal will be the subject of the conference.

P. H. Morrissey, of Galesburg, Ill., grand master of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, has also been sent for to advise with the trainmen of the same matter. Mr. Morrissey is expected here this Sunday.
Some boys stoned a Delaware, Lackawanna and Western brakeman named Peter Ems, who was engaged in putting six cars into the Bellevue washery yesterday afternoon. They were young irresponsible urchins to the number of not more than half a dozen and scampered away when a broken man started to follow them.
Electric lights are being placed about the Bellevue and Dodge collieries. They will be supplied from the Bellevue breaker power plant.

CANNOT BE DONE SAYS LOOMIS
Superintendent E. E. Loomis, of the mining department of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company, when asked yesterday concerning the Mine Workers' scheme of setting the strike by a general arbitration, said:
"Such a proposition is absurd. The rate of wages for the same class of work differ, or should differ, in every vein of a mine. A driver boy who has a pitch in his road should receive more wages than a driver who has a level road and can ride his cats both ways. How can a board of arbitration adjust the wages for the whole anthracite region? A uniform scale that would fit even the territory in which the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company operates is an impracticability. Why should the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company go into an arbitration about company stores, and company doctors, and weighing coal and all those other things which it has no concern? The thing is ridiculous and the United Mine Workers' officials know it. All that an arbitration could effect and all that the Mine Workers' officials want it to effect is the recognition of their union. The operators, knowing this, would refuse to arbitrate, even if something other than recognition of the Mine Workers' union could be effected. We will never recognize the Mine Workers' union. We take this stand for several reasons. The principal one of which is that it is dominated by our competitors, the bituminous coal men."
"The present wage scale is the result of years of experimenting and adjustments and readjustments. If any of our men have any complaint to make of it we will try to adjust matters satisfactorily. We will deal with our men and deal with them fairly."
"In reference to the recent newspaper allusions to my not giving the committee of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western employees that wanted an arbitration some days since a decided answer, I wish to say that the reply I gave them was a definite one, and ought to leave no doubt in their minds as to the course this company is willing and prepared to pursue."
"I said to them that we were willing and glad to treat with our own employees, and that when our men returned to work if there are any matters that need adjusting we would gladly do so, and that we had no intention of desire to treat the employees of this company any other way than perfectly fair, and it was our desire to see that every man working for us received a fair day's pay for a fair day's work, and if we had any men in or about our mines that were not getting this we would correct it."

"I pointed out to them how the question of company stores, weighing coal, company doctors, etc., had no bearing whatever upon them as employees of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company, and also explained to them the fallacy of the powder question and how misleading it was as presented by the leaders of the United Mine Workers. In addition, I said to them that we would be pleased if the conditions warranted a general advance in wages, but unfortunately they did not, and we could not entertain any proposition for a general increase at this time. My interview with the men was most pleasant, and I was glad to have the opportunity to explain to them our position."
"The committee that waited on me, which came from the Lackawanna union, understood thoroughly that no action can be taken towards adjusting the little grievances that may exist in the different mines until after the men have returned to work."

DILCHER WENT TO HAZLETON

Organizer Fred Dilcher left yesterday for Hazleton in response to an urgent telegram from President Mitchell, calling upon him to give his aid in the difficulties which the union is meeting in the lower districts. Mr. Dilcher is one of the most successful workers in the organization, as is told by the completely tie-up in this district where he has been laboring for the past month, and if any man can do ought to turn the tide in the districts below, that man, the miners say, is Fred Dilcher.
The last district convention in June the membership of the union in this district was 20,000, according to Secretary Dempsey, and now from unofficial reports, he and Executive Committeeman Kearney estimate that 5,000 of the 75,000 men in the district are not affiliated with the union.
Mr. Dilcher will return tomorrow to view the parade and expects to bring President Mitchell with him. This parade is to be confined to the door tenders, drivers, runners, breaker boys and helpers, and is not to include the miners, as was first intended. A notice to this effect was posted at headquarters by the parade committee, yesterday. The committee will meet at 2 o'clock this afternoon to make final arrangements.

WHAT THE MEN IN THE MINES EARN

The following with reference to the amount of money earned by the employees of the Pennsylvania Coal company has been made public:
STATEMENT OF THE COMPTROLLER OF THE PENNSYLVANIA COAL COMPANY.
Dummore, Pa., Sept. 20th, 1900.
The following figures, taken from the August pay-rolls of the Pennsylvania Coal company illustrate how much the miners at their various collieries were paid under the existing schedule during that month, and the number of days they worked.
The figures shown are the net amount received, after paying for powder, oil, etc., by four-landed contracts, each composed of two miners and two laborers:

SCHOOL SHOES

For the Boys and Girls.
The manufacturers of food products throughout the United States make a point every year to give an exhibition of their product in at least three different sections of the country. Almost every maker of Pure food of any repute is represented in the enterprise. The events are of really national importance, for they bring together a vast congress of exhibitors and acquaint the public for many miles around with what is best to eat and drink.
Scranton, fast growing to be one of the chief commercial centres in the country, is to be fortunately favored with one of these three exhibitions this year. The other two take place in Pittsburgh, this state, and in Boston, Massachusetts. Thus again does the Electric City demonstrate its capability to grasp from its bigger cities these rich prizes of honor.
For some time past the various manufacturers have been in correspondence with representative people here, and their representatives who have been looking over the ground have determined on utilizing the basement of Jonas Long's Sons' massive department store for the occasion. Its real area of floor space, diverted of merchandise, is the largest in the city, and is well proportioned for an exhibition of this kind. Thus, too, the great activity and energy of the firm enters into the spirit of the event, and will ensure its complete success.
The exhibition will open on the 13th of October, which falls on a Saturday, and will continue for four solid weeks. The departments which occupy the basement of the store will be moved to other floors, so that the big Food Show may have plenty of room to enjoy itself.
The features as already prepared are many and varied. Of course music will form one of the chief attractions, being of almost daily occurrence. These Food Shows are always conducted with great eclat and some of the biggest and best musical organizations contribute to their success. It is also proposed to bring some noted cooking lecturers here for the purpose of giving afternoon talks to the ladies on how to prepare dainty dishes.
Another feature of these exhibitions is the samples. As each food concern is represented by a demonstrator who is supposed to give everyone a taste of the "goodies" whatever they may be, it is pretty safe to assume that one may get a fair sized meal without a cent of expenditure.
Of course the Food Show is free to all comers which makes it doubly inviting. The manufacturers and the firm under whose auspices it is held, do not look upon it as a money-making concern. It is created simply for the introduction into the market of the best and purest class of foods, which as a rule are no more expensive than any other kinds.
